Reorganisation Sales and Supply Chain

Dear Business Partner

As a valued business partner to allpack we would like to inform you about an important change in our company.

We are very pleased to announce that Mr. Lars Runge has taken over the responsibility of the new established Supply Chain Management Department as a member of the managing board of allpack.

Mr. Runge has a wide range of SCM-experiences. He joined allpack in 2017 responsible for purchasing and logistics. In addition he takes over responsibility of the order management team, which is continued to be led by Ms Sulser. The order management team remains to be your main contact of the operational daily business.

Mr. André Dicks remains responsible for Sales and Marketing and focuses on the acquisition and sales process that includes marketing, business development and key account management. With the marketing and sales team he continues to be your main contact in all commercial aspects.

We are convinced that, by this reorganisation, we ensure best customer orientation and satisfaction by delivering added value to our customer service and support. We sincerely appreciate your valuable cooperation, partnership and trust in allpack.

Kind regards
